DEMOCRATS REPEAL IN CHICAGO seem to constitute a cheap job lot.

PARA lands in England have declined in value from $200 to $120 per acre within a few years.

An electrical ventilator has been invented, which will change the air in a large apartment every two minutes.

BUCKLEY the blind politician of California, has just married. How that wife will shut up his eye on a spring bonnet.

"We can't find the time to strike our enemies," said a man who was in a hurry.

Why not send Dan. Vocher to Sentor Ingalls for a few choice phrases?

CHARLES KATZNER, who himself in St.
Louis because Anne Salina refused to marry him. In this case the showers from the Ramey were not sufficient to dissolve the debt.

WE have heard that the American bald eagle is not so fierce as it is said to be.

Every Democrat in the legislature is a man, voted against the Clay election bill in the thirty-third General Assembly, because that bill had for its object to elect Joe Mackinon in Cook county electors.
The Australian ballot system was voted by Governor Hill in New York twice, because he feared its effects in New York City. The Democrats were always in favor of the plan then in its execution.

The Chicago Times is of the opinion that, to those who regard the iron trade as an index to the prosperity of the country, the fact that for the year the country has produced 7,000,000 tons of iron, exceeding that of England, is conclusive of the prosperity of the country.
It is untrue. As yet the iron trade party is not in the hands of the Republican party.

Was It a Joke?

The last year of Cleveland's administration the expenditures have been well until an appropriation of $1,000,000 in excess of that of the previous year was necessary to meet them. These expenses have been increased year by year during Cleveland's administration and in less than two years had Cleveland remained in power the expenditures would have been greater than the receipts and the government would have been forced to face a deficiency.

The Democrats had control of the House of Representatives in this state in 1887. Mr. F. M. Hays was Speaker.
The law provides that the House may have three members. This four members and a majority of more than two-thirds of the House. This law was wholly ignored by the Democrats, who agreed that it was not a majority and alleged that the four members could not make law without a majority being on all bills put for assembly.
They appointed 70 members, 40 members and 30 members. The House police and 100 members. The House of members was supported by the Democrats, members of the House as shown by an investigation.

In filling a vacancy in the forty-fourth district the Republicans chose their candidate to succeed the deceased. In an election they gave the Republic a majority of one in the House. They immediately restored the pay roll of the statutory law.

In view of these facts it is a trial to determine whether the law is a corrupt state convention was held in ignorance or an irrepressible desire to crack a joke.

The Chicago Journal makes the following point: "When the importers' delegate from New York recently visited Washington such a large proportion of them were foreigners that their arguments were translated for their own people." They loudly proclaimed that they resented $500,000,000 of capital or $100,000 for each of the one hundred. When amount of money yielded in imported goods that ought to be made in the United States tried to shelve a tariff law, the free-trade cry about the "robber barons" seems to lose its force. On the other hand American capital and labor have one hundred times as much value invested as the importers have and would seem to be good policy to take of our home industries.

SILVER BULLION.

At the present time it is next to impossible to predict with any degree of accuracy what the final disposition of the silver question in congress will be.

The recent action of the Senate in passing a silver bill of the extreme character throws everything on that line into darkness. Some two weeks ago the House passed a silver bill which was largely a compromise on the part of the extreme advocates of free coinage and the ultra silver people. That bill provided for the purchase of $4,500,000 worth of silver at the market price, to be paid by the Secretary of the Treasury. This was to be paid for in treasury notes, which were made a legal tender.
It also provided that the owner of any silver bullion could have it coined into silver dollars whenever the market price of silver rose to be $1 for $1.25 grains.
The latter provision was to prevent the owner of silver bullion worth less than $1 for $1.25 grains from having such bullion coined and by the mere transformation of bullion into dollars gain the difference between the commercial value of the silver in bullion and the legal value of the silver dollar when coined.

The Senate bill just passed is a clear substitute for the House bill and is as much its antipode as the difference in opinion of the extremists could possibly make it. It provides for immediate and unlimited free coinage. So extreme is free coinage made that it does not even define it to American silver but takes in the whole world. That is to say, silver bullion, being now worth 50 cents a pound, can be taken without the bill being amended by the House and approved by the President by an English man, a Hollander, or an American, to any United States mint and either have 82 cents worth of silver coined into legal tender for standard dollars or can take his penny in exchange which is made a legal tender for all debts both public and private. That is to say, in this transaction he would receive $1 for 82 cents. Hence the blessings of the Senate bill are open to the world. The House bill was passed by Republican votes, 114, to 111. Democrats. The Senate bill was passed by a combination of extreme silver Republicans and the Democratic senators as follows: Aves, 16 Republicans; 17 Democrats; 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

This is important legislation and must affect the business of the country either favorably or unfavorably, according to the silver legislation finally agreed to.
One thing seems to be self-evident, and that is that any system of free coinage which gives a man owning silver bullion $1 for 82 cents worth of silver will be a benefit to that man but a loss to the country. To buy one dollar worth of silver from the owner of the silver and pay for such purchase with a dollar that only costs him 82 cents it is not clear how that transaction can be beneficial to the farmer or other person from whom he buys.

The box contains, among other articles, late copies of the Decatur daily papers, a list of officers and members of the Woman's Club Stock Company, the Constitution and by-laws of the Industrial and Charitable Union, newspaper references to the club, the first annual report of the Woman's Club, and an original historical sketch written by Mr. W. H. Bramble, giving all points of interest dating from 1850, relating to the site of the building. The heading of the interesting and laudatory sketch is: "A Backward Glance—Memories of the Site of the Club House as Told by the Oldest Inhabitants." The corner stone, which was the gift of John I. Pasold, is inscribed "Woman's Club—1890." Mrs. Charles P. Thatcher placed the box in the stone and Miss Laura Wilcox put the mortar in place and the stone was laid. The formal ceremonies will occur at the dedication of the hall, when Mr. Bramble's historical sketch will be read.

Better than the First Night.

The beautiful "Naid Queen" opera with its wealth of special scenery and pretty mechanical effects was given for the second time at the Grand last night, and the entire opera with its charming music was presented. The marches of the young ladies in their costumes of gold and green and the marches of the young men were grand and called forth rapturous applause. The sprites and fairies, all little children in gay costumes, made a hit. You should see the "Naid Queen." The opera gets better every night.

Arrested.

Charles T. Carter, living near Monticello, agent for sewing machines and organs, was arrested yesterday charged with stealing a horse from Mrs. Jacob Conrad. He gave bonds for his appearance the 24th of trial.

A Molester has the right, according to law, to run his wheel on a public highway. He is entitled to as much of the road as he needs, but is not entitled to half of the road unless he is full of tangloft.

The Naid Queen delegates to the Republican county convention are A. W. Hendricks, editor of the Observer, and Geo. D. Kitch.

The ceremony was witnessed by a large company of friends who, with the bride and groom, partook of a splendid wedding supper. The bride received a large collection of useful and ornamental gifts. As the bride party entered the handsomely decorated east parlor Mrs. Edward G. Bramble with charming skill played the Forest Home wedding march. Suspended from the floral arch of smiles and white roses were the initial letters, "L. R." in white roses. The bride was attired in beautiful dress of seafoam silk. V corsage, cream Vandyke lace and Mareschal Neil roses. There were 35 guests and a delicious wedding feast, with many gifts for the bride. Mr. Lewis is one of the efficient firemen at headquarters. The couple begin their married life under the most auspicious circumstances and with the best wishes of their hosts of friends. They will reside at 627 East Eldorado street.

The Mexican Circus.

Last night at the ball park the Trevino Mexican circus caught a large audience at 15 and 25 cents, and a novel circus performance was given, which was pronounced excellent for the money. The band plays in front of the pavilion before every performance. The show will remain at the park until Saturday night.

Fire in the Street.

This afternoon a barrel of gasoline belonging to O. L. Griswold & Co. took fire accidentally in front of the Republican office and it was rolled into the street to burn at pleasure. The fire department turned out and with the help of hooks got the bung-hole upward, and put out the flames. The fire caused intense excitement and drew an excited crowd.

The hook and ladder boys saved the day!

At the time the boy was filling the can it is supposed somebody passing stepped on a barrel lying on the walk where the barrel was resting, thus causing the fire.

AL. MCGOODWIN ARRESTED.

A Noted Character in Jail on a Serious Charge.

Our readers will remember that one night in the month of May, about the 14th of that month, Mrs. Elizabeth Charneck, an English woman of middle age, the wife of a coal miner, while on her way home alone on North Church street, was criminally assaulted by an unknown man, whose purpose was either to commit an outrage or highway robbery. The dastardly assailant was scared away by the husband of the woman who was approaching with a lantern. Mrs. Charneck was rescued just in time, and for several days her physical condition was such as to excite serious apprehension as to the outcome. The lady at the time gave a partial description of her assailant. She remembered that he was a little above the medium height, that he had a light mustache and that he was a negro of light color. He had accented her unbidden at the Church street crossing of the Wabash railway, and had volunteered to accompany her toward her home, which is at 1355 North Church street. The lady had a hat and in the basket was a hat and a friend of Mrs. G. had given her. The negro walked ahead of Mrs. Charneck all the way until Packard street was reached, when he stepped behind, and in a moment he assaulted the woman. Her cries for help hastened the steps of her husband, and the assailant took to his heels, taking the basket with him. Subsequently the basket was found on Edward street, the basket and hat lying separately in the street. Since this occurrence Marshal Mason has been especially at work on the case. Al. McGoodwin, who has often been arrested, was thought to be the man. On divers occasions Mrs. Charneck has noted him and she has felt from the first that he was the assailant. From the first she has contended that if she could hear the man talk she could fix the man's identity to a certainty. Last evening the Marshal had McGoodwin brought to his office in the presence of Mrs. Charneck and she heard him converse. At once all doubt in her mind as to the identity of the man was removed and she unhesitatingly declared that Al. McGoodwin was her assailant that dreadful night in May, the memory of which experience will linger with her to her dying hour. In company with the Marshal Mrs. Charneck visited the office of Justice Curtis and swore out a state warrant for the immediate arrest of McGoodwin on a charge of attempted outrage and highway robbery. By direction of the Marshal McGoodwin was held at the police office until he got the warrant, and then he was promptly landed in the county jail.

Al. McGoodwin is innocent and that he will prove an alibi. If guilty there is no punishment too severe for him or any other human brute who would attempt such an outrageous attack on a woman. The trial is set for Tuesday next in Justice Curtis' court.

Speed on European Railways.
The nearest approach to the fast train of English lines is shown in France, where the Northern Railway company has a certain number of trains running at an average speed of 80 miles an hour. The Eastern railway has a few at 100 miles an hour, and the Paris-Lyon line has twelve trains between Paris and Lyons at 83-1/2 miles an hour. The so-called express trains of the other French companies are run at an average speed of less than 60 miles an hour, and the express trains of Belgium at present have an average speed of 50 miles an hour. In England very slightly exceed it. On the railways of North Germany there are some forty trains which attain a speed of between 54 and 55 miles an hour, the remainder, even those which bear the title "express," do not exceed 50 miles an hour. In Germany, however, the word "express" is not used for several lines—such as the
